

Council plans for summer

Elk Point Town Council laid plans for summer projects at their June meeting, which was wrapped up in short order.

Three matters from the Public Works Committee were approved, including fencing of the southeast corner of the first bleachers at the Elk Point Recreation Park ball diamonds, purchase or lease of a 1996 half-ton as approved in the capital budget, and oiling of the Peter Fidler statue at an estimated cost of $1500.

Council also agreed to maintain the arena parking lot year round, and to supply water to the arena at no cost.

The Town will not, however, repair the Canada Day stage in time for this year's festivities. Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess has been directed to look at the feasibility of repairs for future use, and to report back at the July meeting.

Council has waived the business licence fee for the circus which is being hosted by the A. G. Ross Arena Operating Committee in mid-July, as a debt reduction fundraiser. They also approved a $100 donation to Frog Lake First Nations for renovations to their pow-wow grounds bleachers.

Canada Day schedule coming together

Elk Point's Canada Day Committee is forging ahead on plans for a celebration which will delight the whole family, while staying within stringent budget guidelines. A total of $2350 in donations has been received to date.

The committee's June 3 meeting was told that a majority of activities have been confirmed. The Canada Day Gospel Concert, headlined by Ken and Mildred Jackson of Calgary, goes Sunday evening, June 30 at 7:00 p.m. in the Elementary School gym. The Arena Operating Committee will start their part of the festivities Sunday evening also, with a beerfest in the arena.

Monday, July 1 will start off with the Chamber of Commerce Pancake Breakfast. The parade, which is being organized by the Lions Club, will start lining up at 10:30 a.m. for judging at 11:30 a.m. The parade will start off with a kids' bicycle parade, with each participant in that group receiving a Canada Day frisbee and an ice cream cone. Highlights of the parade will be the Shriners' band, jointly sponsored by the Lions Club and Masonic Lodge, and Popcorn the Clown, aboard his unicycle.

Popcorn will be back in the afternoon to join the youngsters in games at the arena, where they will also enjoy face painting and a visit from Crackers the Clown, who will be making balloon animals.

A new addition to the afternoon activities this year is a farmers' market and craft sale, which goes from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. in the arena. Tables may be booked by calling Margaret White at 724-3193 and leaving a message. Canada Day souvenirs will be available at the craft sale.

The Arena Operating Committee will be serving up beef-on-a-bun, starting at 1:00 p.m.

Arrival of the color party will start off the 2:00 p.m. afternoon performance, which is slated to include the Toe Tappers, an Elk Point seniors dance group, Frog Lake native dancers, Red River jiggers, fiddlers, Ukrainian Dancers, the Blooming Grannies and more.

Watch for further details and the full Canada Day schedule next week.

Sod turned for new Catholic church

Elk Point's Roman Catholic congregation gathered outdoors Sunday for a momentous and joyous occasion — the turning of sod for their long-awaited new church.

After a brief mass, Bishop Raymond Roy plunged the shovel into the freshly mown lot at 54 Street and 48 Avenue to officially mark the beginning of the building project.

Church spokesman Ed Poulin said the sod turning "was not the first step." The decision to build a larger church to accommodate a growing congregation came close to a decade ago.

Sunday's ceremony brought them a bit closer to their dream, but Poulin told his fellow parishioners that if they are to realize the dream, "we must keep our attitudes Christian, be patient, and keep the spirit of love." Bishop Roy will be part of the project, and will base his decisions on consultations with the parishioners, Poulin said. "We must combine the physical and spiritual aspects of this church. We must do it with love."

A BLESSED BEGINNING -- Bishop Raymond Roy turns the sod for a new Roman Catholic church for the growing Elk Point congregation.

World's largest chuckwagon unveiled

Northeast Alberta is getting a big reputation, whether you're talking Easter eggs, mushrooms or pyrogies. Now it has the World's Largest Chuckwagon, thanks to the Dewberry Board of Trade, who unveiled their creation at this weekend's annual Dewberry Race Meet.

Sunday's capacity crowd cheered enthusiastically as the huge orange tarp was removed to reveal the giant red chuckwagon with its white tarp emblazoned with 'Dewberry' and a spray of the berries which gave the community its name.

The project was funded with donations and assistance from the Board of Trade, with support from the Dewberry Agricultural Society and the community. It was built by Moe's Wheelwright Shop at Lindbergh, and both the tarp and wagon were painted by Jason Fluney. Roy Butz was given the honor of hitching his fine team to the big wagon for its inaugural tour around the infield.

Watch for the Dewberry wagon at the Elk Point Canada Day parade and at other events in the area.

NOW THAT'S A B-I-G WAGON! Morris and Fae Irvine of Moe's Wheelwright Shop proudly survey the finished project which was created for the Dewberry Board of Trade. Roy Butz is at the reins.

Whitesox faced tough competition this week travelling to Kikino on Tuesday night to meet the undefeated league leaders. Getting off to a bad start they played well after the first two innings, scoring three runs while the "big unit" Jordie

Laboucane wins Dewberry show

Brian Laboucane of St. Walburg topped the Dewberry Chuckwagon Racemeet this past weekend with his Moe's Wheelwright outfit clocking a total time of 2:16.68 for two days of action. He is sitting second in the overall standings, behind Luke Tournier, Duck Lake, who won Grand Centre last weekend and placed third this weekend with his Sunny Boy Cereal rig. Ray Mitsuing of Loon Lake was second, while Bonnyville father and son Ray and Bert Croteau were fourth and fifth. Leo Tournier of Duck Lake was sixth.

Next weekend the CPCA wagons will run in Wainwright, and then in Meadow Lake for a four-day show June 28-July 1.

Tough week for Whitesox

Saturday afternoon in the 8-team Cold Lake Tournament, Whitesox played the big team from Consort. Consort was rough on the Whitesox bullpen who went through almost the whole pitching staff trying to hold down the big bats. Things got interesting in the third inning when Jordan Bassett pounded in three runs with his Petersen came in to pitch, only allowing four runs in five second homer of the season but it wasn't enough for the win.

On Sunday the boys played the host team, whom they had defeated 5-0 one week earlier, but with ice on the pitching arms from the day before, the boys went home to recuperate after losing another tough game.

This week the Whitesox have a break in the action to write exams before travelling to Westlock on June 29 and 30 for the first round of Provincial round robin, where they will meet Peace River, Legal and the host team from Westlock.

Childhood injury prevention: properly used child restraints

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

Because our office is involved with the Family Day Home Program, we often receive information pertaining to children. The recent news release sent to us from "SAFE KIDS" presented a very important concern: Child Passenger Restraint.

A commitment to child safety is something we all need to be involved in, whether we are caregivers or family members; the safety of our children as they are passengers in vehicles is very important. The question we need to ask ourselves is — do we know the correct use of child safety seats in vehicles and if we do know, are we making sure it happens for our children?

Surveys indicate that approximately 40% of infant car seats and 80% of toddler car seats used in Alberta are not properly installed or used. Every year in Alberta, approximately 26 children are killed and 200 are injured in motor vehicle collisions, as a societal cost of $197 million. Properly used child restraints reduce deaths by 71%, hospitalization by 67% and minor injuries by 50%, yet many parents and caregivers are unaware or misinformed about the effectiveness of safety seats and seatbelts.

We need to become involved in stopping the leading cause of death. Motor vehicle collisions are the leading cause of death and disability for children in Alberta. When we identify ways to protect children when they are in moving vehicles, we discover that safety seats and seatbelts offer an unparalleled measure of protection. Yet only 3 out of 10 Alberta drivers ensure that the children in their vehicle are consistently protected by correctly utilizing the appropriate safety seat or belt. An astonishing 69.2% of drivers expose children to unacceptable risks for injury or even death.

Child restraints are like a vaccination against the physical and emotional destruction caused by traffic accidents. But to be effective, the restraints must be installed correctly and used correctly, every time the child is in a motor vehicle.

Although most parents do use child safety seats, surveys have revealed that only 30.8% of vehicles which transport children have their safety seats correctly installed and used. The most common errors include: *non-use of a tether strap, *loose harness, *improper use of a chest clip, *illegal use of booster seat, *improper installation, *no seatbelt, *no harness, *twisted straps or harnesses, *incorrectly routed straps, or *inappropriate seat. Improper usage significantly impacts the seat's ability to protect a child in the event of a collision.

Before you get behind the wheel... Think!

Traffic accidents affect us all.

Keep an eye on your speed. Driving too fast increases your chance of collision.

Think you're a good driver? Think again! Alberta's streets and highways could be a lot safer if we all paid more attention to our driving habits.

Driver error is one of the leading causes of traffic collisions. Safe driving requires our full attention... all the time. Traffic accidents can be prevented. Good drivers can make that happen.

Be courteous to other drivers.

Traffic accidents affect us all.

Think & Drive

As you head out this summer, be alert. Whether you're driving around the block or around Alberta, know and obey the rules of the road. Watch what's going on around you, share the road courteously, and be a good driver.

Be a part of traffic safety, and have a great summer.

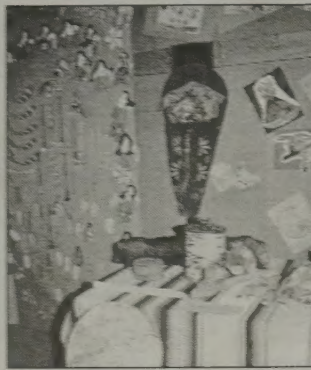

SAFETY STARTS WITH YOU.

Heinsburg School celebrates Mother Nature

BANNOCK BAKED ON A CAMPFIRE added a special touch to a native-style feast including stew, fried bannock and rice pudding, enjoyed by Heinsburg students and their visitors from F. G. Miller High School's Grade 7 class on June 7.

CRAFTS DISPLAYED included many created by the students in the Cree classes taught by Cecile Dion. School Counsellor Lena Waskahat assisted with planning the special afternoon.

ENTERTAINMENT was provided by a group of drummers and dancers from Frog Lake School for this special afternoon. Another special guest was Roy Scott, who brought along a full sized Red River cart and a smaller model for the students to see.

RAISING THE TEEPEE — Dewey and Gordon Dion set up a traditional canvas teepee while Cree instructor Cecile Dion explained the symbolism of the circle of poles, which are bound together as a family is bound by love.

Nutrition notes

What is your Body Mass Index?

By Shelley Miller-Hertes

Registered Dietician, Elk Point Health Centre

Small, tall, sturdy, delicate — great bodies come in all sizes. Using a Body Mass Index measure you can see if your present size falls in the healthy weight zone.

The Body Mass Index indicates whether your size is in the low, moderate or high risk zone for developing health problems. The BMI should not be used with children, individuals under 20 years, adults over 65 years, pregnant or lactating women, or very muscular individuals.

Use that chart that follows to discover your own BMI.

HOW TO FIND YOUR BMI — IT'S EASY

1. Mark an X at your height on line A.
2. Mark an X at your weight on line B.
3. Take a ruler and join the two Xs.
4. To find your BMI, extend the line to line C.

FOR EXAMPLE:

* If Michael is 5'11" (1.80 m) and weighs 188 lbs. (85 kg) his BMI is about 26.

* If Irene is 5'4" (1.60 m) and weighs 132 lbs (60 kg), her BMI is about 23.

IF YOUR BMI IS...

UNDER 20 — A BMI under 20 may be associated with health problems for some individuals. It may be a good idea to consult a dietician and physician for advice.

20 - 25 — This zone is associated with the lowest risk of illness for most people. This is the range you want to stay in.

25 - 27 — A BMI over 25 may be associated with health problems for some people. Caution is suggested if your BMI is in this zone.

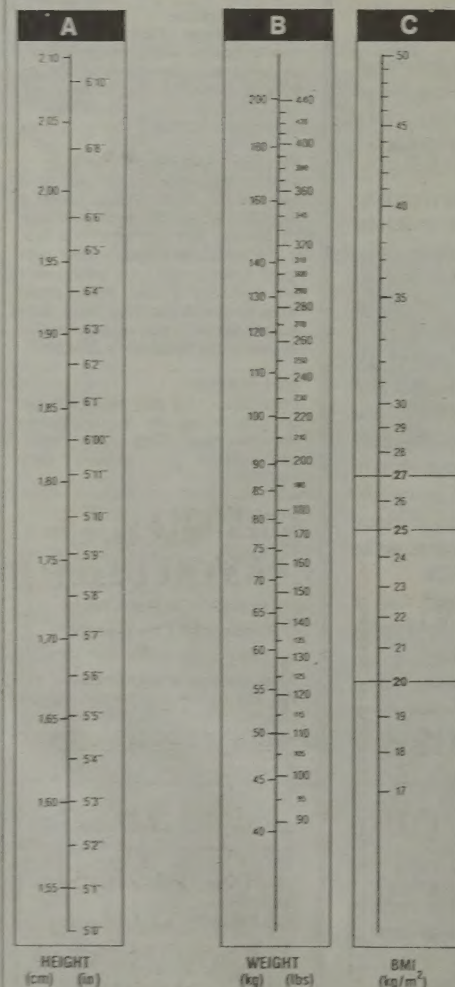

OVER 27 — A BMI over 27 is associated with increased risk of health problems such as heart disease, high blood pressure and diabetes. It may be a good idea to consult a dietician and physician for advice.

THE CANADIAN DIETETIC
DIETITIANS OF

BODY MASS INDEX

IF YOU FALL BELOW 20 OR ABOVE 27 ON THE BMI RANGE...

It's time to reduce your chance of developing health problems. The first and most important thing is to determine why you are not within the healthy weight range and to seek the assistance of your dietician, nutritionist and physician.

The highlight of the program is a proposed visit from storyteller Merle Harris followed by an all night camp-out at the library for program participants and their families. There will be bookmarks, stickers, puzzles and games plus the opportunity to have your very own Camp Readsalot t-shirt. Registration for the program begins after June 15.

To get you in the mood for our program, here are a few juvenile titles you might try:

Sunny Days & Starry Nights by Nancy Fusco Castaldo is a hands-on nature book for the younger set. Packed full of activities for exploring the world around you, it is a perfect addition to your summer supplies.

The Kids Canadian Bug Book by Pamela Hickman and Heather Collins introduces kids to nearly fifty bugs found in our great country from the tiny snowflea to the huge Cecropia Moth. Filled with facts and activities.

The Kids Canadian Plant Book, also by Pamela Hickman and Heather Collins, contains information, projects and amazing plants about many of the plants found growing in Canada.

Animal Tracks of Western Canada by Joanne E. Barwise makes identification into a detective game and enables upper elementary and older children to identify the animals responsible for the tracks they discover.

Monster Bugs by Lucille Recht Penner and Pamela Johnson gives an introduction to yucky, scary, deadly bugs.

Amaze your friends and family with magic using things right in your own back yard and Backyard Magic by Todd Kerr.

Dan isn't thrilled to be going camping with his mom's boyfriend Mike and his two kids in I Hate Camping by P. J.

Petersen. Soon everything seems to be going wrong and Dan and Mike's kids are driving each other crazy.

An out-of-control forest fire threatens the log camp where Storie and her family live in Fire on the Wind by Linda Crew.

Elizabeth is reunited with one of her closest friends from middle school but soon discovers that she dislikes her old friend's best friend in Elizabeth's Rival from Sweet Valley High.

Jessica is sneaking out of camp to meet a local boy and Elizabeth's longtime boyfriend pays a surprise visit in Meet Me At Midnight, also from Sweet Valley High.

TIC talk

We have never been a great aficionado of the rodeo scene but on Saturday we decided it would be fun to attend the chuckwagon races in Dewberry. So accordingly, we went and discovered that for $7: you get to see the races, a place to park, a spot to sit on very hard bleachers and all the dirt you can eat.

We arrived just before the start of the first race to look for seats in the already-packed bleachers. We couldn't understand why there was a group of empty seats in what we thought was a prime location right down in front of where the wagons take off. We quickly discovered the reasons. When the wagons take off, they do it with a great deal of enthusiasm and tend to fling large chunks of dirt at anyone imprudent enough to sit in the line of fire. We decided, as we spat horsy-tasting grit, that it all contributed to the unique atmosphere of the chuckwagon races.

With shouts, yells, whistles and a raucous horn the first race gets underway. Horses and wagons take a tight turn around the first barrel and swerve to avoid the second, then round the corner to take off down the track. A large cloud of dust blows up into the audience and by the time we blink our vision clear again, the wagons are coming in to the finish. They fly by the stands, blowing up another cloud of dust, and head off down the track again. The drivers vigorously haul on the reins, trying to stop their horses. The horses are pumped. They don't really want to stop. Eventually the horses are turned and are driven by the stands. The drivers smile and wave, the audience applauds and the announcer comments, as he will all evening, "A great race, boys. A great race."

We discover very early that we have no talent for the lively trade in quarters that is going on around us, as everyone lays small wagers on the outcome of the next race. We pick our favorites on a sound and scientific basis (we like the paint job on the wagon, that's a very cute spotted horse, or the wagon is sponsored by Sunny Boy - "Hey, we've eaten their cereal!") Despite carefully selected choices, we lose nearly every race.

We are continually amazed at the outriders. One stands at the heads of the horse, holding them back before the horn blows, then with the start of the race, directs the plunging animals around the first barrel, grabs his horse, flings himself on and rides madly after the wagon, while the second outrider throws the 'stove' in the back of the wagon, grabs his horse, flings himself on and rides madly after the wagon. We quickly recognized that the outriders were the same stalwart young men each time. One in particular was in every race except one. We were looking for him, wondering if they could actually race without him, when we discovered he was taking it easy and just DRIVING the wagon! But next race, with a change of shirt, he was back again as an outrider. And if that wasn't enough, twice we saw him throw himself off his horse onto a runaway wagon and heroically stop the team. (No way can Hollywood top that!)

ing as though we had been royally entertained. We are looking forward to going again sometime.

For anyone interested in a unique and exciting experience, we have the schedule for the season's Canadian Professional Chuckwagon Association here at the TIC.

NEW BALLS FOR ELK POINT SOCCER CLUB were presented by Kevin Casper on behalf of Norcen Energy Resources, and were accepted by Gerry Ehler's senior girls' team.
